In the heart of Appalachia, amidst the rolling hills and resilient communities, Lisa Lewis Tyre has emerged as a beacon of hope and transformation. Her unwavering belief in the potential of her Holler has inspired her to create Hope in the Holler, a transformative organization that is revitalizing the region through education, workforce development, and entrepreneurship.

Lisa's journey is a testament to the indomitable spirit that resides within Appalachia. Overcoming adversity and embracing her own power, she has become a role model for countless individuals, demonstrating that even in the most challenging circumstances, hope can prevail.

Roots of Resilience

Lisa's roots run deep in the Appalachian Hollar. Growing up in a coal-mining family, she witnessed firsthand the hardships and struggles that plagued her community. Poverty, unemployment, and a lack of opportunity were rampant, leaving many feeling hopeless and abandoned.

Despite these challenges, Lisa's family instilled in her a strong sense of resilience and a belief in the power of education. She excelled in school, becoming the first in her family to attend college. Her experiences ignited a passion within her to make a difference in her community, to create a brighter future for those who came after.

Hope Takes Flight

Armed with a college degree and a heart filled with compassion, Lisa returned to her hometown, determined to create positive change. She began by volunteering her time at a local community center, where she saw firsthand the profound need for educational and economic opportunities.

Hope in the Holler provides access to quality education, empowering students to achieve their full potential.

In 2016, Lisa founded Hope in the Holler, a comprehensive organization that seeks to address the interconnected challenges facing her community. Through a range of programs, Hope in the Holler is transforming lives, creating pathways to success, and restoring hope to an often-forgotten region.

Pillars of Empowerment

Hope in the Holler's mission is centered around three core pillars:

- Education: The organization provides access to quality education for all, from pre-kindergarten to adult learning programs. Their innovative approach focuses on early childhood development, STEM education, and college readiness.
- Workforce Development: Hope in the Holler offers job training, entrepreneurial support, and career counseling to help individuals gain the skills and experience they need to succeed in the modern workforce.
- Entrepreneurship: The organization encourages and supports local entrepreneurs, providing them with the tools, resources, and mentorship they need to thrive. Hope in the Holler has incubated over 20 businesses, creating new jobs and economic opportunities in the region.

A Ripple Effect of Transformation

The impact of Hope in the Holler has been profound. Students are thriving in school, graduates are pursuing higher education and entering the workforce, and entrepreneurs are creating sustainable businesses that are revitalizing the local economy.

Beyond the tangible outcomes, Hope in the Holler has also fostered a sense of community and pride. Residents feel empowered to take ownership of their future and work together to create a better life for themselves and their families. Lisa Lewis Tyre has shown the world that even in the most challenging of circumstances, hope can take flight and transform lives.
