Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD) is a neurodevelopmental disorder that can affect a child's ability to focus, control their impulses, and manage their emotions. Children with ADHD may struggle with homework for a variety of reasons, including:

- Difficulty paying attention
- Impulsivity
- Disorganization
- Time management problems
- Emotional dysregulation

If you are a parent of a child with ADHD, you know that homework can be a major challenge. You may feel like you're constantly fighting a losing battle, and you may be at your wit's end. But there is hope! The Homework Squad ADHD Guide to School Success is a comprehensive guide that will help you understand your child's ADHD and how to best support them with their homework. This guide is full of practical tips and strategies that will help you create a positive and productive homework environment for your child.
